DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claims 30-51 and 70, drawn to a fluorine-modified polyurethane resin.

Group II, claims 52-59, drawn to a process for preparing the fluorine-modified polyurethane resin.

Group III, claims 60-69, drawn to a method for providing a surface treatment by applying the fluorine-modified polyurethane resin.

2. The inventions listed as Groups I-III do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: the special technical feature is known in the art. The special technical feature common to the claims is a fluorine-modified polyurethane resin produced from a fluorine-modified macromonomer having two or more reactive hydroxyl and/or amino groups, a polyisocyanate, a high-molecular weight polyol, and an optional chain extender. U.S. Patent No. 5,189,135 discloses a fluorine-modified polyurethane from the reaction of at least one diisocyanate with at least one hydroxy-capped perfluoropolyether having a molecular weight within the range of from 1000 to 5000 and with at least one polyol with a molecular weight higher than 500 and optionally a chain extender with a molecular weight lower than 500 (Column 3, lines 20-45, Abstract).

3. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

I. A fluorine-modified macromonomer having two or more amino and/or hydroxyl groups that are reactive toward isocyanate groups.

II. A fluorine-modified macromonomer that is a perfluoroalkyl alcohol with one reactive hydroxyl group.

III. A fluorine-modified macromonomer with methacrylate end groups and no reactive hydroxyl groups.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

4. The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:

The fluorine-modified macromonomer is reacted with isocyanates and other polyols to form the fluorine-modified polyurethane of claim 30.

The following claim(s) are generic: Claim 30.

5. The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: The species in claim 30 requires two or more isocyanate reactive groups that are hydroxyl and/or amino groups, the species of claim 31 requires only one reactive hydroxyl group, and the species of claim 33 requires an isocyanate reactive group that is not an hydroxyl and/or amino group.

6. The examiner has required restriction between product, process and method of using. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

7. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
